

BARNS SOCIALIST CANDIDATE FROM TRAINING CAMP

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—Major Gen. J. Franklin Bell, commander of Camp Upton, where the drafted men from New York city are in training, refused yesterday to permit Morris Hillquit, the Socialist candidate, to make a campaign speech at the camp. This announcement was made by the Socialist candidate himself, who issued the following statement:

"I am sorry that General Bell saw fit to refuse me permission to address the men in Camp Upton. The Socialist party has a message for the drafted men. It is the only party that recognizes, to the full extent, the public duty resting upon the men and city government to take care of the families of the soldiers. By a substantial reduction in the food prices and the cost of other necessities of life a Socialist administration would enable the families of the drafted men to maintain a better existence under scanty allowances and thus ease the minds of the soldiers while they are staking their lives in the service of the country. It is particularly regrettable that General Bell should have refused a hearing to the Socialist candidate in this campaign after having publicly announced that he would allow all party candidates to address the soldiers in Camp Upton. By refusing a hearing to one candidate and granting it to others the general is taking an undue political advantage of his position of military authority."

"I wanted to speak to the boys at Camp Upton not only because my candidacy is as important to them as it is to the civilian voters of this city, but also because my election would contribute substantially to the growing force of struggling democracy in Germany and thereby tend to bring the war to a speedy and satisfactory termination."

CONFERS RARE HONOR ON JEAN J. JUSSERAND

ALBANY, N. Y., Oct. 20.—Jean Jules Jusserand, French ambassador at Washington, is today being felicitated by his friends on the honor conferred on him by the University of the State of New York when he was given the honorary degree of doctor of laws. The institution has conferred that degree on only two other living men, Thomas A. Edison and Elihu Root.

Ambassador Jusserand and Boris A. Bakhteff, the Russian ambassador, were both speakers at the university last night. The former declared that France is fighting for the same ideals today as when she aided America in her fight for liberty.

THE CITY'S SOCIAL SIDE

Borden-Stone Nuptials Will Occur Today

The marriage of Miss Pauline Stone, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Parker Stone, to Dr. Daniel Le Roy Borden, Medical Corps, U. S. R., which will be solemnized this afternoon, will be marked by a simple home ceremony, followed by a large reception at Raucher's. The wedding will be at 4:30 at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Stone, on Massachusetts avenue, with the Rev. Dr. Charles Wood, pastor of the Church of the Covenant, as the officiating clergyman.

Dr. Borden is the son of Col. William C. Borden, Medical Corps, U. S. A., and Mrs. Borden. Today's wedding is the second in their family within a fortnight, another son, Capt. William Ayres Borden, U. S. A., having been married to Miss Dorothy Adams, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Samuel S. Adams, on October 8. Captain Borden will be best man for his brother, and Miss Stone will have as her maid of honor and only attendant her sister, Mrs. Arthur Forsaker.

Autumn Colors in Decoration.
Autumn colors prevail in the decorations of the house, where quantities of vari-colored leaves have been used, with palms, Southern shrubs, and clusters of yellow and white chrysanthemums. A pete dies in the bay window marks the place where the ceremony will be performed. A string orchestra will play the wedding music.

There is a suggestion of autumn coloring in the gown Mrs. Forsaker will wear, a chic model of yellow faille. The skirt is draped in bustle effect and veiled with yellow chiffon cut in deep scallops. The bodice is of the chiffon over faille, and there are long sleeves of chiffon. The frock is very simple and depends for its charm upon the beauty of line and richness of material. The main train of the gown is of brown tulle, made with the new high crown and trimmed with a twist of French blue velvet and was clusters of French flowers. She will carry an armful of pink rose buds.

The bride will be given in marriage by her father. Her costume is of white broadcloth satin, made with a draped skirt and a long court train. The bodice, which is draped in surprise effect, is filled in with white chiffon embroidered in pearls and the sleeves of chiffon are edged with seed pearls. She will wear a tulle veil arranged with a coronet of tulle edged with pearls and caught at the back of the head by orange blossoms. Her flowers will be white roses and lilies of the valley, and she will wear the bridegroom's gift, a platinum bar pin set with diamonds.

Dancing at Reception.
Dancing will be a pleasant feature of the reception at Raucher's, where the decorations will be of autumn leaves, palms, and yellow and white chrysanthemums. Mr. and Mrs. Stone and Col. and Mrs. Borden will receive with the bridal party. Mrs. Stone wearing a handsome gown of beige chiffon combined with black velvet. The bridesmaid will be Miss Helen Woodrow Bones and Mrs. Cary T. Grayson.

Miss Emma Lansing in Paris.
Miss Emma Lansing, daughter of the Secretary of State, who went abroad to work in the canteens established for American soldiers back of the lines, have arrived at the Hotel Chatham, Paris, from Bordeaux. Miss Catherine Rush Porter, daughter of Mrs. J. E. Porter, of Washington, is among the other canteen workers in the city.

Announcement has been made of the engagement of the Marquis de Polignac, head of one of the oldest families of France, and now connected with the French government, to Miss Nina Floyd Eustis, of New York, widow of James Biddle Eustis. The news has been told to a few of Mrs. Eustis' intimate friends.

The wedding will be celebrated simply, owing to war conditions, next Wednesday at noon in the Lady Chapel of St. Patrick's Cathedral. The marriage ceremony will be performed by Mr. J. J. Lavelle, rector of the cathedral, in the presence of a small gathering. There will be no reception, as the marquis and his bride were at once for Washington, where his duties with the French commission will keep him for the winter. He has taken for the season the house at 1720 M street in the National Capital.

Mrs. Eustis, whose family has been prominent in New York for generations, is the daughter of the late Walter Floyd Crosby. She has been a widow for about two years. The Marquis de Polignac came here a year ago last spring as the representative of the French government for the allied bazaar held in the Grand Central Palace. He returned to France in the spring of this year, but came back here in company with Andre Tardieu, high commissioner of France.

Lieut. Badger to Wed.
Lieut. Oscar Charles Badger, U. S. N., son of Rear Admiral and Mrs. Charles Badger, of Washington, and Miss Isabel Edna Austin, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Charles Wood, of Washington, will be married today at 4:30 at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Stone, on Massachusetts avenue, with the Rev. Dr. Charles Wood, pastor of the Church of the Covenant, as the officiating clergyman.

General Kuhn Married To Miss Squire

A wedding of widespread interest was solemnized yesterday afternoon when Miss Helen Hay Squire became the bride of Maj. Gen. Joseph E. Kuhn, U. S. A. The ceremony, which took place at the home of the bride in Nineteenth street, was entirely simple and not even the close friends of the bride knew that the date had been set until after the wedding was over.

The Rev. Father Edward L. Buckley, of St. Matthew's Church, officiated and the little company which attended the wedding included General Kuhn's son, Capt. Parker Kuhn, U. S. A.; Miss Anne Squire, sister of the bride, and her cousins George Bond Cochran and Douglas Cochran, of Philadelphia. The bride wore a tailored suit of gray mixture, cut on simple, but smart lines, and a small round hat of gray plume, with a velvet crown.

On Motor Honeymoon Trip.
Immediately after the ceremony General and Mrs. Kuhn left by automobile for a short wedding trip, after which he will return to his duties at Camp Meade, where he is in command. The wedding marks the culmination of a romance of the last summer and is of unusual interest as the bridegroom is known on two continents.

The marriage of General Kuhn and Miss Squire adds his name to an already long list of famous soldiers and sailors who have been married late in life to prominent Washington women. Admiral George Dewey returned from Washington from Manila Bay to marry Mrs. Mildred McLean Hazen. The late Lieut. Gen. Henry C. Corbin, U. S. A., was no longer young when he married the handsome and popular Miss Edythe Patton, and Lieut. Gen. S. E. M. Young, U. S. A., retired, now in command at Soldiers' Home, selected as his bride Mrs. Anne Dean Huntley, a woman of great distinction.

Miss Squire, daughter of Lieut. Charles Austen, United States coast artillery, was born in New York. She was married to General Kuhn in 1916. General Kuhn is now on duty at the Walter Reed Hospital. Upon their return from their wedding trip he and his bride will be at 1316 New Hampshire avenue, where he will be at home after December 1. The bride's traveling costume is a one-piece dress of dark blue serge, elaborately embroidered in dull yellow and old blue. ## MAKE 'FLUNKIES' WORK IN CAUSE OF LIBERTY, HIS PLAN

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—Ornamental flunkies and doormen in apartment houses and hotels may sacrifice their jobs soon to the cause of liberty. George Backer, apartment house owner and building contractor, has estimated that elimination of such useless jobs would supply an army of 25,000 to 32,000 to relieve the labor shortage.

To prove his theory Mr. Backer has given notice to four apartment house doormen and his chauffeur that their jobs cease on November 2. "Always a believer in labor saving," Mr. Backer is anxious to start a reform which will strip New York streets of the giants in the costumes of San Domingo generals who do nothing from morning till night but open and shut carriage doors. "Any amount of labor can be saved in New York, if people really want to effect the saving," he said. "Why folks let attendants open their automobile doors and lug their bags to and from the elevators. Then they ride out to golf for exercise. If I operated the Hotel Chatham, instead of leasing it, I could eliminate forty employees and turn them to productive labor. These doormen are picked for their physique. They are big flunkies, and they get soft and lazy standing around with nothing to do. It will be good for them to be thrown out of their soft snaps. Perhaps they'll get real jobs and amount to something."
